To celebrate the end of the financial year, the Tait & Co team embarked on a “2 feet and a heartbeat” walking tour of Perth on the last Friday of June.

The tour was called “A City Way out West” and it turned out to be a personal tour just for us! With most of the firm’s members originating from somewhere other than Perth, it was an interesting and informative evening for us all. We started off outside Perth Town Hall – that in itself was a new discovery for some of us!

Our tour guide Ryan, a “Sandgroper” of course, led the way telling stories about the quirks of Perth’s history, heritage, culture and architecture. The tour finished with drinks at the Cheeky Sparrow, one of the newer bars in town that has recently sprung up in the lanes around the CBD.

It was agreed that having learnt a bit more about the historical background of our city, we have earned the right to do the “Eat, Drink, Walk Perth small bar tour” next time which involves more eating/drinking and a little less walking and history!
